My federal income tax withheld in box 2 (or state in box 17) seems low (or is zero). Is this right?

- The amount of taxes withheld from your checks depends on several factors, such as gross pay, filing status (married or single), number of allowances claimed and types of deductions. If you believe the amount of taxes withheld from your checks is not correct, you may want to contact a professional tax advisor to determine what filing status is best for you. Everyone’s situation is different, and we cannot provide advice about your tax filing status. If you need to change your filing status for next year, please submit a new W-4 to CDCN.

Why are the following boxes checked on box 13 of my W-2: Statutory Employee, Retirement Plan and Third-Party Sick Leave?

- Those three items in Box 13 on your W-2 were checked in error. They do not apply to your situation. When entering your W-2 information for your Form 1040, US Individual Tax Return, please do not check the statutory employee box, the retirement box and the third-party sick pay box in Box 13.

Why does Statutory Employee, Retirement Plan and Third-Party Sick Leave not apply to me?

- The reason they don't apply is as follows:
 - A statutory employee is someone who is treated like an employee but didn't have any taxes withheld from their paycheck (this occurs frequently with employees who are 100% commission). This does not apply to you and the box should not have been checked.
 - Having the "Retirement Plan" box checked means you had access to a retirement plan such as 401k at work. There was no retirement plan available to you from Consumer Direct Care Network Virginia; therefore, this box should not have been checked.
 - Third-party sick pay means that you received payments for sick time from a company other than the one that employed you, such as an insurance company. This does not apply to you and the box should not have been checked.
